BADA Refund Policy

The following information is offered to assist any participant on a BADA program in the event of withdrawal.

London Theatre Program

All fees for the London Theatre Program are paid directly to Sarah Lawrence College in accordance with their refund policy and tuition refund insurance. More details are available at <http://www.slc.edu/offices-services/student-accounts/>

Midsummer in Oxford and Midsummer Conservatory Programs

A deposit of $500 is required on acceptance, which is non-refundable under any circumstances. The balance of tuition and accommodation fees is refundable if BADA is notified by May 31st. No refund can be made after this date.

Fee Protection Insurance

BADA suggests that if you are offered a place on our programs, you should then seriously consider the benefits of taking out a fee protection plan. If for any reason you cannot start or complete the course, insurance would alleviate if not eliminate your financial loss.

Various insurers offer Fee Protection Insurance, and BADA do not recommend one above another; however for participants' ease, details of a Fee Protection plan which offers three kinds of cover is provided below -

1. Tuition refund plan – offering coverage for Trip cancellation/Trip Interruption
2. Full package plan - includes Medical insurance as well as Trip Cancellation/Trip Interruption coverage
3. Medical Only plan – for students who have no out of pocket cost exposure

These voluntary enrollment plans are offered in conjunction with InsureMyTrip.com which is one of the largest providers of online travel insurance options in the marketplace. IMT has an education niche and has extensive experience in developing travel insurance programs for schools and study abroad providers. The plan underwriter is Nationwide Insurance Co, an A+ rated highly regarded carrier.

There is a simple quoting / enrollment and fulfillment process for students/parents and call center support for questions and any issues that might arise. Go to <https://www.insuremytrip.com/education/index.html>, fill out a few details about your trip and you will be brought to the quoting site for the plans available.
